

Did you know?

Up to 1 million children in the UK currently have an undetected vision problem

Many parents, teachers and children themselves may be unaware that something is wrong

Has your child had a sight test?

Importance of early diagnosis

The eye is still developing throughout childhood so problems treated early can make a difference that lasts a life time.

Taking children for sight tests from an early age helps to build good eye health habits into adulthood

Looking after your childrens eyes

Vision screening & sight tests

Vision screening is a short examination intended to pick up a lazy eye, or indicate if there is a problem. A sight test is a more comprehensive check which can pick up many other conditions, including colour vision defects, binocular vision problems and the need for glasses

Make it routine

Make sure your child's vision is checked before they start school
Include a sight test in your 'back to school' routine

Take your child to any High Street Opticians

Sight Tests- NHS